

Special Education Advocacy & Testing Services

Markell employs a highly trained, fully qualified Special Education Advocate and Educational Consultant to help you advocate for your child's education.

Through specialized testing and evaluation, we can arm you with the information needed to develop the right Individualized Education Program (IEP) that will maximize the student's potential for success.

We evaluate students of all ages who may be struggling with ADD, ADHD, Autism, Depression/Anxiety, Dyslexia, memory, focus, verbal skills and the lack of self-confidence that often results from these challenges. These evaluations discover any educational weaknesses the students may have and help identify certified instruction methods to give students the tools needed to strengthen those weak skills.

We provide:

- Guidance in the eligibility of additional school based instruction and service supports (e.g. 504/IEP) that your child is entitled to by law

- The use of nationally normed tests of cognitive abilities as part of evaluation process
- Analysis of test scores, reports, and previous IEPs that are factored into our evaluations
- Completion of ALL evaluation reports within 48 hours
- Competitive rates

Whether you are struggling to get the right IEP in place for your child or trying to determine which schools or educational programs would be best suited for your child, Markell is here to help.

To learn more or book an evaluation, contact our advocate:

Lance Halpern, Ed.S., LPC. • Certified School Psychologist N.J./N.Y. & Licensed Professional Counselor • 732.817.0103

